FAIRVIEW: Oscar Cox Jr., 94, formerly of Bridgeport, an oilman, died Sunday, February 10, 2013, in Allen.

Oscar was born on April 27, 1918, to Oscar Sr. and Earline (Wood) Cox in Chico and 10 days after his birth the family moved to Bridgeport. He was the second son. Oscar worked in his father's grocery business and as a boy delivered groceries in a donkey-drawn buggy. In 1938, he married Ruth Tally of Decatur. They spent two years on the gulf coast when Oscar was buying oil leases for Gulf Oil and then he served three and a half years in the Navy Air Corps as a flight engineer.

They returned to Bridgeport where he worked in the grocery business and built multiple homes and commercial properties including the Bridgeport Motel and Restaurant, the first motel ever built in Bridgeport. During this time they had two children, Johnye and Cheryl. At the motel he met George and Johnny Mitchell of Houston, Ellison Miles and John A. Jackson of Dallas. Oscar joined them in developing more than 4000 oil and gas wells in Wise County. He was also instrumental in locating and negotiating the purchase for the Mitchell oil and natural gas processing plant, one of the largest in Texas. He and his family moved to Decatur where he operated several businesses and built the Wiseman Motel and Restaurant. During this time he and his family enjoyed many ski trips and other travels. They resided in Decatur until he retired and moved to Dallas. He continued building homes and owned half interest in a realty partnership. He also built homes in Rowlett on Lake Ray Hubbard and participated in other investments. In 1985, he married Bonnie Simmons. They enjoyed spending time at South Padre Island where they bought and sold several condominiums.

Oscar served as president of their condominium association board for many years. He also built several homes in Plano. Oscar and Bonnie traveled extensively before moving to Heritage Ranch in Fairview, an active adult resort community. Oscar and Bonnie enjoyed attending the Oaks Baptist Church in McKinney.
